FULHAM KNOCKED OUT!

Shock failure in first match of the new Cup

BRISTOL R 2, FULHAM I

THIS was the opening game in the new Football League Cup competition— the West Ham-Charlton match started fifteen minutes later—and what a shock it provided!

Bristol's speed and skill made nonsense of their poor form in Second Division games, and for long spells they outplayed their more illustrious opponents from the First Division.

Left half Ray Mabbutt sparked off most of the Rovers' attacks, and Fulham goalkeeper Ken Hewkins, standing in for the injured Tony Macedo, was repeatedly from Geoff Bradford, and three more shots were kicked off the line by full back Jim Langley and George Cohen.
But Rovers were overeager near goal and their shooting was wild.
Fullam showed ho w simple it could be when Johnny Haynes passed to John Key in the ninth minute. Key's precision centre was blasted home
by Maurice Cook—well
out of goalkeeper Howard Radford's reach.

He made two fine saves from Geoff Bradford, and

It was Tom Finney's
special match. Tom began it by telling the fans that a knee injury might prerent him lasting out—and the n gave them a supershow, scoring two great goals.

SHOW, scoring two great goals.

Another ex-England hero.
Nat Lofthouse, fired in TBREE for the All-Stars.

FLASH! Torquay were a goal do wn at Tranmere before they had even touched the ball in their Third Division game.

Keith Williams scored it after K en Finney had waltzed through Torquay's defence straight from the itek-off.

Peter McNamee returned to the side to snatch a bril-liant hat-trick and make two of the other goals that sank Doncaster.

ColcHESTER crashed to their sixth successive defeat against a magnificent Bury side with not one weakness. Yet Colchester had as much of the game. The trouble was that the tremendous Bury defence never faltered.

The Colchester attack, often good in approach work, fizzled out near the penalty area. Much of their work was spoiled by over-claboration.

DAT BRADY, Millwall's esol and efficient left back was off the field for just one minute of this appalling game. But it was time crough for Darlington
to grab the goal that wasn it.

As Brady was dragged

Darlington right half Ken Furply took a throw-in that sent Jee Rayment down the vaeant right flank.

Fast Thinking

The right winger centred to Bobby Baxter, who whipped it past Reg Bavies. A triumph of quick thinking.

This match had everything that is bad in our football: high flying clearances aimed anywhere, aimless shooting, and lots of petity fouls.

Darlington had a hero in goalkeeper Celin Tinsley, who dealt brilliantly with everything the home side threw at him in a period of intense pressure in the first half.
